Police prepare dossier on rowdy elements

Report to be sent to Home Department to banish anti-social elements from their area of operation

Mysuru, Dec. 7 (RK&BCT)- Even as the Congress, the ruling BJP and the JD(S) in poll-bound Karnataka are engaged in a bitter war of words over politicians attending events organised by rowdies and social media posts on the number of rowdies each party has, the Mysuru City and the District Police have begun the exercise of identifying rowdy-sheeters, known defaulters, goondas, criminals and extortionists and are preparing a dossier to enable the administration to banish them from their areas of operation.

With elections round the corner, goonda elements and rowdies are bound to increase their illegal activities and some of them have already identified themselves with prominent political candidates and are offering their support to garner more votes. While the candidates may not be 'aware' of the illegal activities of their supporters, these dossiers will enable the administration (Home Department) to banish the trouble-makers.

"Gangsters, who had been keeping a low profile, will be suddenly active with elections. Many criminals have strong political connections. This, coupled with muscle power, make them a real threat to public security during the elections," a senior Police Officer said. Several gangsters have taken the side of different political parties who offer them a good deal.

"We are contemplating deporting the criminals who have failed to reform themselves even after several warnings and cases. Based on the instructions from Additional Director General of Police (ADGP - Law and Order) Alok Kumar, we are collecting information on the criminals whose names have figured in rowdy sheets over the years in all the 18 Police Stations in Mysuru city and also in the district limits," said a Department source.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Today, every Government puts in constant hard efforts to resolve political conflicts, restore communal peace, settle industrial disputes, end militaristic confrontations, and so on, but we find that despite the best efforts of those in power, we are no longer near our goal. Why is it so? Perhaps one of the main reasons for our failure is that we try to end these various kinds of conflicts separately. In other words, we make separate efforts to have harmony in each sphere thinking that harmony in all these would, ultimately, bring peace to all these fields. But we fail to realise that such piecemeal efforts will not serve any purpose because, before we have eradicated the causes of conflicts in one sphere, these would reappear in an aggravated form in another sphere, and this would keep going on and on, making us crazy and out of our minds. So, then, what actually is the remedy? How do we have harmony in all the spheres and at all times? A thorough and deep analysis of the nature of the fore-mentioned conflicts would lead us to the discovery of the truth that the source of all these conflicts is the human psyche. In other words, we ourselves are the source or generators of these conflicts. After all, political, economic, religious, and other aspects are among the various aspects of the human personality, aren't they?

Hence, if there is a conflict between man's mind and intellect, or between man's emotions and intellect, or even between intellect and intellect, then this is bound to find manifestation in various forms like political, economic, religious, etc. It is, therefore, necessary that the inner conflict be first stopped to achieve inner harmony. Remember! Our relationships at the personal, communal, racial, ethnic, or international level cannot be harmonious unless we internalise these values through spiritual knowledge, the practice of positive thinking, silence, good behaviour, and meditation. So, let us join our hands to bring universal stability through inner stability, thereby creating a harmonious environment to live in. — Rajyogi Brahmakumar Nikunj in Deccan Herald

This organisation likes human race to go extinct

New York: The Voluntary Human Extinction Movement has been trying to convince mankind to go extinct for over 30 years. Founded in 1991 by Les U. Knight, an American environmental activist, Voluntary Human Extinction Movement (VHEM) believes that humanity is "incompatible with the biosphere" and that human extinction is the best solution to some of the most pressing environmental issues plaguing our planet. There are already 8 billion of us and at the rate we're going, we're going to render our species extinct anyway, but not before doing so to millions of other species of plants and animals. And if the outcome is going to be the same for us, why not at least save the other species that would actually thrive without us? VHEM says.

Les U. Knight and other like-minded people have some arguments to back it up. Apart from our destructive nature in relation to other species and our planet in general, there is also the issue of not being able to look after members of our own species.

Girl who lost eye becomes bionic eye master

Beijing: A young Chinese woman who lost an eye in a serious car accident dedicated her life to creating prosthetic eyes that glow different colors.

In 2013, Xia Tong lost one of her eyes in a car accident when she was 18 and had it replaced with a prosthetic eye. Instead of losing confidence in herself she turned her situation to make herself stand out. After studying prosthetic eye technician (ocularist) course, Xia Tong made classic prosthetic eyes that are almost indistinguishable from real ones, but she is best known for her "bionic eyes" that light up different colors and even flash at the press of a button.

Beware! Fraudsters will arrange loan from Banks and steal money from your account

Mysuru, Dec. 7 (TRR)- Online fraudsters are getting innovative and are finding new methods to deceive the gullible. Earlier, they used to send website links to unsuspecting people and withdraw money from bank accounts of those who clicked on the link sent to them. But now, fraudsters arrange loans for you from a Bank and once the loan money is deposited in your account, they loot it.

An incident reported from Bidadi, Ramanagar district, describes the modus operandi of the fraudsters.

Manjunath, aged 41 years, an employee of a factory in Bidadi, has an account in ICICI Bank, Pune branch, which is his savings bank salary account and his employers regularly remit his salary to this account.

On Nov. 27 evening, he received a message on his mobile from mobile number 62913-49260 which stated that he has not paid his electricity bill and power supply will be disconnected if he did not pay the balance of Rs. 15 immediately. This message had a link to pay Rs. 15. Manjunath promptly made the payment by clicking on the link. To his surprise, he found that his mobile was blocked for two hours after he made the payment.

At about 8 pm, Manjunath received an e-mail which said that his ICICI Bank account was credited Rs. 24 lakh, as loan. Wondering how an amount can be credited as loan when he has not applied for any, Manjunath went to the nearest ATM and to his surprise found that Rs. 24 lakh was indeed credited to his ICICI Bank account.

Since the day was Sunday, he thought of contacting his Bank on the next day. Within minutes, he started receiving messages about the withdrawal of Rs. 1 lakh from his account. In about 20 minutes, he received 7 such messages and he panicked to see Rs. 7 lakh withdrawn from his Bank account. Though, he tried to block his bank account he couldn't. Then Manjunath contacted his wife who called the customer care and got his bank account blocked.

When Manjunath enquired the Bank about how he got a loan when he has not applied for it, Bank officials told him that since he had an account in the bank, they sanctioned loan within three minutes and credited to his bank account. "When I verified the loan application, I noticed that it was not even filled properly," Manjunath told Star of Mysore.

Obviously, the fraudster hacked Manjunath's Bank account after he clicked on the link, applied for Bank loan and after the amount was credited to his account, they immediately started withdrawing money. "Any further delay in blocking my Bank account would have enabled the fraudsters to withdraw the entire Rs. 24 lakh and I would have unnecessarily become a debtor," Manjunath added.

"I can't understand how a Bank can sanction loan of Rs. 24 lakh to somebody who has not applied for it in just three minutes, that too at 8 pm on Sunday, a holiday," Manjunath said and added that he has lodged a complaint at Ramanagar District Police Station.

Thermal drones to track leopard on the prowl

Additional night-vision drone team arrives from Bengaluru; to begin search this evening

Mysuru, Dec. 7 (MTY&BCT)- The Forest Department is setting up an advanced surveillance mechanism to track the elusive leopard that has already claimed the lives of two youths and terrorised the villagers in the rural belt of T. Narasipur. Except for two sightings in camera traps till now, the feline has not been sighted despite combing operations by over 150 Forest officers.

The Department has deployed one thermal drone to hover around the area to track the movements of the leopard. The drone or a quad copter is equipped with thermal imaging cameras and it can detect the radiation of the animals through infrared rays.

Forest officers told Star of Mysore that one more team that handles technologically advanced drones have come to Mysuru from Bengaluru and they will begin searching for the leopard by this evening. "They are equipped with night-vision thermal drones and we hope to see some good results," Deputy Conservator of Forests (Territorial) K. Kamala Karikalan said.

The use of drones is aimed at effective monitoring and surveillance of the leopard at selected locations in a vast area that comprises over 40 villages. These normal image/video capturing drones and thermal sensing drones will be used with wireless networks.

In forest areas and on the fringes, activities during night remain high as compared to day and night vision through thermal cameras will help in monitoring activities more effectively. The cameras will provide a live feed of leopard movements, even in the covered area, she added.

These cutting-edge thermal sensing, thermographic cameras with remote zoom capabilities are being deployed in the critical areas where the leopard was sighted earlier and where it killed two victims. Officers who are combing the area said that the standing sugarcane crop in vast fields in almost all the villages continues to impede the search and surveillance operations as the area is a perfect place for the feline to take shelter.

"Now the Mysuru DC has ordered the crop harvest based on our request. Once the fields are clear of the cane crop, the feline will have no place to hide and its movements can be tracked easily," officers said.

Power supply to pump sets

The Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) has modified the duration of electricity supply to irrigation pump sets in T. Narasipur taluk in the wake of leopard scare.

Instead of the power supply in the night hours, the CESC has decided to ensure the supply in the daytime from today. According to a communication from CESC Superintending Engineer, the decision comes in the wake of the ongoing operations taken up by the Forest Department to capture the leopard, which is on the prowl in the taluk.

As per the modified duration, the 7-hour three-phase power supply to the IP sets will be provided for 10 days from 8.30 am to 6 pm. Alternatively, this will also prevent the farmers from venturing into their fields during night to switch on the motors to irrigate their lands.

Sugarcane growers lay siege to Offices of MPs and MLAs

Stage protest in Bengaluru against Govt. apathy

Mysuru, Dec. 7 (MTY&TRR)- Citing apathy of the State Government towards their ongoing agitation at Bengaluru for fulfilling their various demands including Fair and Remunerative Price (FRP) for sugarcane, sugarcane growers laid siege to the Offices of MPs and MLAs and also staged protests in city on Monday.

The protesting farmers, who tried to mob the Office of Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha at Jaladarshini Guest House on Hunsur Road were stopped by the Police. Later, they met Chamarajanagar MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad at his residence and MLAs S.A. Ramdas and L. Nagendra at their Offices and submitted memorandum. They criticised the State Government for its apathy towards sugarcane growers' ongoing agitation at Bengaluru and demanded that being their ruling party representatives, they should immediately draw the Government's attention to their problems and get them justice.

Pointing out that in a State like Punjab where sugar yield is less than Karnataka the FRP for sugarcane is Rs.3,800, in Uttar Pradesh it is Rs.3,500 and in Gujarat Rs. 4,400, the farmers demanded that the State Government should fix Rs. 3,500 per ton of yield. "Sugar factory owners are extorting farmers in the harvesting and transportation of sugarcane. Sugarcane harvesting is being done after 16 months. The rate per km as fixed by the Government between the land of farmer and the sugar factory should be reduced. If excess rates are charged by the factories, the Government should initiate action against them through Deputy Commissioners and file criminal cases," they urged..

"As sugarcane harvesting is being done after 16-18 months, an additional amount as interest should be paid in addition to FRP. The Government should put an end to the practice of sugar factory fieldmen taking excess money from farmers without mentioning them in the bill. The agreement which is introduced by the Government, between sugarcane farmer and the factories should be implemented and a copy of the agreement should be given to the farmers," the farmers said.

DSS stages protest against cancellation of pre-matric students' scholarship

Mysuru, Dec. 7 (PM&TRR)- The Dalit Sangharsha Samithi (DSS) staged a protest on Saturday against the Central Government's decision to cancel the student scholarship for pre-matric students of SC/ST, Backward Classes and Minority communities.

The activists assembled in front of the statue of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar near Town Hall and demanded that the order of cancelling the student scholarship be withdrawn immediately and urged the Government to increase the scholarship amount.

"Governments have been giving scholarships for students to enable them to purchase books and other materials needed to pursue their education. But now the Union Government has all of a sudden cancelled the scholarships of those who are studying in classes from 1 to 8 which needs to be condemned by everybody," said the protestors.

Alleging that the present BJP Government which came to power in 2014 under Narendra Modi is conspiring to deny education to students of weaker sections and drive them back to slavery, the protestors cited the example of closure of Government Schools and encouraging private educational institutions as a proof of their allegation.

Even the State BJP Government is also twisting progressive thinking in the name of revision of syllabus. Both Union and State Governments are saffronising the education, they complained.

Dalit Sangharsha Samithi leaders Choranahalli Shivanna, K.V. Devendra, Harohalli Nataraju, leaders Ugranarasimhegowda, Bilikere Devaraju, Dyavappa Nayaka and other participated in the protest.

Farmers demand withdrawal of anti-agricultural laws

Mysuru, Dec. 7 (MTY&TRR)- Activists of Karnataka State Farmers Association and Hasiru Sene staged a protest near Deputy Commissioner (DC)'s Office on Monday seeking fulfilment of their various demands including withdrawal of three anti-Agriculture Amendments made to the APMC Act by the Union Government.

The protestors urged the State Government not to privatise power sector.

"The Government should desist from fixing meters to agricultural pumpsets and legally fix prices for agricultural crops. The rates for vegetables should be fixed on the lines of Kerala Government. The height of Alamatti dam should be raised from 518 to 524 feet. The farmers of the State are in total distress from the year 2009 to 2022 following various natural calamities. Farmers should be immediately paid crop loss compensation and provided crop insurance benefits. Loans obtained by the farmers towards the purchase of tractor, crops, land development and green house should be completely waived off," urged the farmers.

"The gomala lands should not be distributed to industrialists or any organisations. Uniform sugarcane rates should be fixed for the sugar factories of all districts," the protesting farmers stated.

Burning of fallen leaves, waste going on unabated

Menace wreaking havoc on health, say residents; urge MCC to crack the whip

Mysuru, Dec. 7 (MK,KS&BCT)- Gardeners, residents and Pourakarmikas of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) are openly seen these days burning dry and fallen leaves and adding to the air pollution. It is a practice that is going unnoticed, posing severe environmental hazards.

Burning dry leaves is the easiest way of getting rid of them but the ill-effects on the environment are tremendous. The smoke from burning leaves contains toxic particles and gases which can accumulate in the lungs and cause respiratory diseases.

Moist leaves give off more smoke and are likely to contain chemicals called hydrocarbons some of which are known carcinogens. When the dry leaves are burnt, it gets mixed with plastic waste, which further adds to the thickness and toxicity of the smoke and releases carbon monoxide into the air.

Daily problem at Rajivnagar

While the menace is rampant across the city in many isolated areas and vacant sites, it is also concentrated in some thickly populated residential areas. Residents of Rajivnagar Second and Third Stage for example are fed up with this problem.

They told Star of Mysore that Pourakarmikas are collecting dry waste and instead of picking them up and taking them to compost units, they dump them in vacant sites and set fire early in the morning. "A thick smoke greets us by 7 am by the time we step out of our homes for a morning walk, said Saleem, a resident of Rajivnagar Second Stage.

In fact, yesterday morning, Saleem caught a Pourakarmika burning dry leaves near Surya Narayana Temple on the road that leads to Shabnam Shadi Mahal and then onto the Ring Road. "This is a day-to-day problem here and I spoke to our area Health Officer Srinidhi and she assured me of action and this menace would not repeat," Saleem told SOM.

MCC Health Officer assures action

The issue was later reported to MCC Health Officer Dr. D.G. Nagaraj, who also promised immediate action. Residents of Rajivnagar Second Stage and its surrounding areas near the Ring Road said that there are many vacant plots near Narayana Hrudayalaya Hospital that are used by the Pourakarmikas to burn waste.

Nadeem Mohammed said that the residents of the area were facing this problem since years and the menace peaks during summer and winter every year. "They burn waste both in the morning and evening and we are choked. We tried complaining to the MCC Control Room but it was a futile exercise," he said.

A residential and a hospital area

"There is a hospital nearby, where hundreds of patients come daily and there are thousands of houses in Rajivnagar 3rd Stage and many of them suffer from severe cough and many senior citizens and children have caught respiratory infections because of inhaling the toxic smoke," Nadeem added.

Leaf smoke also contains hazardous chemicals such as carbon monoxide, which can mix with haemoglobin in the bloodstream and reduce the amount of oxygen in the blood and lungs. When burned, leaves emit a huge number of suspended particles and soot which settles in the lungs, worsening pulmonary diseases.

Another noxious chemical commonly present in leaf smoke is benzo (a) pyrene, which has been shown to cause cancer and is believed to be a major factor in lung cancer caused by cigarette smoke.

Breathing leaf smoke can irritate the eyes, nose and throat of healthy adults, can wreak havoc on small children and aggravate things for the elderly and people with asthma or other lung or heart diseases.

"I am a regular walker and I find people burning dry leaves thus polluting the calm and serene environment. Despite asking them not to do so, they continue with the practice which not only pollutes the environment but also causes health problems. The MCC must strictly order its staff and workers to put an end to this practice." Saleem added.

Yuva Brigade volunteers free Nagamale Hill of plastic waste

Mysuru, Dec. 7 (BCT)- Nagamale Hill in Male Mahadeshwara Hill Ranges is a favourite trekking spot now and there has been an increasing adventure activity after the death of forest brigand Veerappan, who had made the entire forest range his area of sandalwood smuggling and elephant tusk-stealing operation years back.

This place is considered sacred as a rock that resembles a Shivalinga is protected from the sun rays by another rock that looks like a fully spread hood of a snake.

Beliefs apart, as the place is a much sought-after trekking destination, it had turned into a garbage dump yard as careless trekkers leave behind plastic bags, water bottles, food waste and also plastic cups and plates. This is an unfortunate development as the waste is dumped amidst nature, dirtying the surroundings by the same people who come there to enjoy the pristine beauty of nature, mountains and forests.

Taking the responsibility of cleaning the surroundings, volunteers from Yuva Brigade launched a two-day cleaning campaign last Saturday and Sunday. While on the first day, over 50 volunteers cleaned the weeds around Antharagange and got rid of mud deposits in the surroundings of the water source, the second day they picked up loads of plastic waste from the road that leads to Nagamale.

The waste picking drive began at 8.30 am from Nagamale and a tractor-load of plastic waste was collected by the time they covered a distance of one kilometre. The collected waste was filled into gunny bags and were left at the Nagamale Forest Department Office and again the cleaning task was initiated from the Forest Office to Indiganatha village.

Apart from plastic waste, clothes, slippers, chocolates, snack and biscuit packets were collected. By 5 pm, one truck-load of waste was filled to be transported to waste segregation units.

Yuva Brigade Division Convener Chandrashekar, Co-Convener Pramod, Praveen, Prajwal Devaramani, Ramanujam, Balu, Sunag, Pavan, Keerthi, Manoj, Swamy, Prasanna, Madhu and other volunteers from Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar, T. Narasipur and Nanjangud participated.

Observing that the Raaga of today may take a new turn tomorrow, he said that such a change will help us in learning the finer aspects of music. Noting that change is a relentless process in the world of music, Vid. Venkatram said that there is no end to such a creativity.

Pointing out that an artiste or musician will always be in search of newer innovations, he said that Music Conferences and concerts are like schools of learning, where one will get to learn the nuances of music.

Maintaining that the mind of an artiste will always be on the run, looking for something new, Venkatram said that those who have learnt music will always be active.

Such musicians always yearn for something new," he said. Police prepare dossier on rowdy elements

"We have begun the task of collecting information about each person involved in criminal activities. We will open the goonda sheet and rowdy sheet against those who are still involved in criminal activities and they will be banned from entering the district. Under watch are the activities of rowdy elements since the last three years and the number of non-cognisable cases registered against them in different jurisdictions including City Police Commissionerate and District Police," the source added.

Each Police Station is closely watching and monitoring the activities of the rowdy elements in their limits including those who have been booked under Karnataka Control of Organised Crimes Act (KCOCA), Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) and Goonda Act. "In the next few days, we will complete the process and prepare the list of rowdies to deport them," an officer said.

The dossiers, being prepared by the Law and Order Police and the City Crime Branch (CCB) sleuths, will contain all the information about the illegal activities along with documentary evidence so that it becomes a water-tight case in case the goondas approach the Court of law against the banishment move.

A legal opinion will be taken on the nature of the crime and banishment and a report will be sent to the Home Department so that the banishment process becomes easy and stands in the Court, the officer added.

Facts of Sri Svetavarahaswamy, Sri Ambujavalli Mahalakshmi Temples at Mysore Palace

Mysuru, Dec. 7- Member of the erstwhile Mysore royal family Raja Chandra has stated that Sri Svetavarahaswamy and Sri Ambujavalli Mahalakshmi Temples inside the Mysore Palace were not built by Hoysalas as mentioned in the news report 'Project to restore Palace temple paintings halted' published in Star of Mysore dated Dec. 5.

While saying that the project to restore paintings and murals at the temples inside the Mysore Palace premises to increase their aesthetic value has come to a grinding halt, the report had mentioned, "These temples were originally built by the Hoysalas in Srirangapatna and the original idols were brought and installed at the Palace temples in 1811 by Chikkadevaraja Wadiyar."

In his letter, Raja Chandra has said, "For the record, Chikka Devaraja Wodeyar was the Ruler of Mysore from 1673-1704 and he ruled from Srirangapatna as the capital. This temple was built at Srirangapatna by him

(I am using Wodeyar as there was no British influence at that time). Mummadi Krishna Raja Wadiyar was the Maharaja from 1799-1868 and capital of the Kingdom from then on. This Svetavarahaswamy complex was built by him."

"Since Tipu controversy is again taking centre stage, I would like to reproduce the facts from Mysore Gazetteer: "Chikka-Dēva-Rāja-Wodeyar is said to have procured the stone image of Svēta-Varāhasvāmi from Srīmushnam (in the present South Arcot District) and set up the God in a newly built temple at Seringapatam, but as the temple was demolished by Tipu, the God was removed to Mysore and set up in this temple in 1809. It is stated that Dewan Pūrnaiya had this temple built with the materials of a Hoysala building in the Shimoga District."

The Annals of the Mysore Royal Family; Vol-1 and Vol-2 mention the history and significance behind Sri Svetavarahaswamy and Sri Ambujavalli Mahalakshmi Temples, he said.

B.S. Pandit Memorial Concert 'Saraswati' features Jugalbandhi and Hindustani Vocal

Anil Srinivasan (piano) and Jayanthi Kumaresh (veena) presenting a jugalbandhi at 'M. Govinda Rao Memorial Auditorium' in GSSSIETW premises on KRS Road in city recently as part of B.S. Pandit Memorial Concert 'Saraswati.' They are accompanied by Pramath Kiran on tabla and Trichy Krishna on ghata.

A few decades ago, while performing a jugalbandhi at Sheshadripuram Ramotsava Samithi in Bengaluru, Vid. N. Rajam, the legendary violinist along with Vid. Mysore M. Nagaraj, spoke a few words on how a jugalbandhi should be. 'It must be like each artiste, adding a flower to make a beautiful bouquet' was the wonderful approach of a true artiste to a jugalbandhi.

B.S. Pandit

This came to one's mind after listening to B.S. Pandit Memorial Concert 'Saraswati.' B.S. Pandit was fondly remembered on 18th and 19th of November at 'M. Govinda Rao Memorial Auditorium' in GSSS Institute of Engineering and Technology for Women (GSSS IETW) premises on KRS Road in city.

A jugalbandhi (though it was not mentioned so in the invitation) by Anil Srinivasan (piano) and Jayanthi Kumaresh (veena)on the 18th and a Hindustani Vocal by young Siddhartha Belmannu were the attractions. Pramath Kiran on tabla and Trichy Krishna on ghata accompanied the duo on the first day and Pandit Ravindra Yavagal and Pandit Vyasamurti Katti accompanied on tabla and harmonium on the second day respectively. There was also a pre-concert interaction with students of Music titled 'Strings of Hope' on the 18th.

Anil and Jayanthi are masters on their respective instruments. It is a wonderful experience to hear their individual performance. While playing together, there has to be a tremendous like-mindedness to make the experience more musical. The success of a duet depends probably more on the manodharma that is preferred to be identical.

However, they started off with the raga Hamsadhwani. Jayanthi took the lead and played an absorbing prelude. Anil created a scintillating shower of swaras inbetween. The popular 'Vatapi Ganapatim Bhajeham' was as green as ever. In the Kalpana swaras, Jayanthi was superb as usual. Anil did join for a few sangathis and went on exploring new vistas which were beyond the frame of usual Kalpana swaras.

Karnatak music, which is filled with a number of embellishments and nuances is not easy to play on a western instrument like piano. Anil has succeeded in adopting it and has achieved a commendable mastery. His imaginations and improvisations are awesome.

He was in a mood to interact with the students, tell them a story and make them sing a popular tune along with the piano. A slightly surprised Jayanthi had to take over to present Khamach alapana. Anil went on to sprinkle, shower and spray soft and scintillating swaras that were sparkling, exciting, dazzling and twinkling. Be it 'Sujana Jeevana' or Thillana, Jayanthi's playing was engrossing and captivating. Every phrase was stunningly perfect. Pramath Kiran and Trichy Krishna were cheerful during the short Tani. 'Vande Matharam' brought the curtain down for the first day.

Siddhartha Belmannu is a very promising young singer blessed with a rich voice that can express all his musical thoughts. The support given by very senior accompanists, Ravindra Yavagal and Vyasamurti Katti enhanced his zeal and resulted in a fantastic baithak. This young singer dives deep into any raga and sincerely starts improvising its possibilities. Aahir bhairav and Hindol were the two main ragas he had chosen to elaborate. The morning Raga unfurled leisurely in his rich voice. Traversing comfortably in two octaves, he was exploring its fineness in every phrase. 'Rasiyamhara' in vilambith ek tal and the popular 'Albela Sajan Aayore' in Dhruth was followed by 'Mayire man bhavan' set to ek tal were in full bloom.

Rag Hindol (which has nothing to do with Karnatak Hindola) had thick shades of Hamsanandi (minus Ri). Nishad too is only supportive in this Rag. His energetic singing introduced new dimensions of this Rag. 'Eri Mayi Piya Ke Sang Khelo,' the bandish in vilambit lead to 'Chanak Boond Bhari,' another bandish in Dhruth Teen tal. A cascade of sargam was enjoyable. It was the spontaneity of his music that reached every listener's heart.

'Kaise Kaise Javoo' in Dhruth Teen tal in the Rag Shuddh Sarang was very melodious. Clear enunciation and devotion were displayed in the Devaranamas he sang. 'Jagava Suttihudella Ninna Maaye,' the Ugabhoga of Purandaradasa was followed by 'Naanena Maadideno' in Rag Des. 'Karedare Barabarade' in Adana was emotionally charged. The senior accompanists Ravindra Yavagal and Vyasamurti Katti's contribution to this young singer was commendable.

Siddhartha Belmannu performing on the day-2 of B.S. Pandit Memorial Concert 'Saraswati' at 'M. Govinda Rao Memorial Auditorium' in GSSSIETW premises in city recently. He is accompanied by Pt. Ravindra Yavagal on tabla and Pandit Vyasamurti Katti on harmonium.

WORD OF THE DAY

Vamoose

Pronunciation: vuh-MOOSS.
Meaning: Vamoose is an informal word that means "to depart quickly."
Origin: In the 1820s and '30s, the American Southwest was rough-and-tumble territory—the true Wild West. English-speaking cowboys, Texas Rangers, and gold prospectors regularly rubbed elbows with Spanish-speaking vaqueros in the local saloons, and a certain amount of linguistic intermixing was inevitable. One Spanish term that caught on with English speakers was vamos, which means "let's go." Cowpokes and dudes alike adopted the word, at first using a range of spellings and pronunciations that varied considerably in their proximity to the original Spanish form. But when the dust settled, the version most American English speakers were using was vamoose.
Example: "[Ali S.] Khan's group packed fast and vamoosed on a small airplane, which rose straight into a thrashing thunderstorm." — David Quammen

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Vicious circle

Meaning: A self-perpetuating process which returns to its starting point with no improvement from when it was begun.

Origin: A vicious circle was the name given by 18th century logicians for a fallacious proof in this form: A depends on B, B depends on C, C depends on A. This was alluded to in Edition 3 of The Encyclopedia Britannica, in 1792: "He runs into what is termed by logicians a vicious circle." A wider use of the expression was taken up by the medical profession and there are several examples from the early 19th century of it being used to describe conditions where one symptom affects another and the health of the patient steadily deteriorates. The more general meaning of the phrase refers to any process where one event feeds off another but which seems trapped in a loop and eventually returns to its starting point, with no benefit gained. This imagery was employed in the 18th and 19th centuries to denote the circle of life and death. The emblem of a snake eating its own tail was commonly used in the iconography of Georgian and Victorian cemeteries - as in this example from Sheffield's General Cemetery. The figurative, that is, not specifically logical or medical, meaning became established in the middle of the century; for example, this piece from Henry James' Notebooks, 1892: "The whole situation works in a kind of inevitable rotary way - in what would be called a vicious circle."
